

Today we honour and remember our colleagues, who tragically lost their lives in mining accidents at our operations.

Our thoughts are with the families, friends and colleagues of the deceased. Ensuring the safety and health of our employees, contractors and suppliers underpins all that we do and remains key to delivering on our commitment to zero harm.